GENERAL CAMPUS PROGRAM DIRECTORS

SUBJECT: Call for Course Proposals – 2022 Summer Session

I write to invite General Campus colleges, departments, and programs to submit proposals for Summer Session 2022 courses. Student interest in Summer Session continues to hold strong, with approximately 15,000 students and more than 35,000 enrollments in 2021. I hope that you will encourage your faculty - both those who have previously taught in summer, as well as those who have not - to teach Summer Session courses that complement the academic year curriculum. Graduate students who have advanced to candidacy are eligible to teach lower division courses as Associates-In.

It is particularly important that units consider offering classes that have waitlists, or are otherwise impacted during the academic year. Making these courses available in summer can help our students improve their time to degree. Please note that as of now, we do not know whether remote instruction, other than currently approved R-courses, will be possible; we are in conversation with the Academic Senate now. Our experience in Summer 2020-21 has been that students welcome this option.

In addition to proposed summer courses, we would also like to know of already approved courses (e.g. Global Seminars, Travel Study, and Summer Success Programs).

There will be two five-week summer sessions: June 27 – July 30, and August 1 – September 3, as well as Special Sessions of three, eight, and ten-weeks. The deadline to submit course proposals is Friday, November 19, 2021.

The success of Summer Session depends greatly on the interest and participation of departments and individual faculty. The Academic Affairs Financial Incentive pilot program is under review and the terms of the program will be announced January 2022. Faculty compensation will be calculated at the standard rate of 8.5% of their annual salary.

The Summer Graduate Teaching Scholars program sent out the Call for Nominations in a separate email.

The Director of Summer Session will be in touch providing more details for Summer 2022. If you have any questions about the Summer Session program, please contact Director Becky Arce (barce@ucsd.edu).

I hope for wide participation in Summer Session 2022.
